

It's Divine™

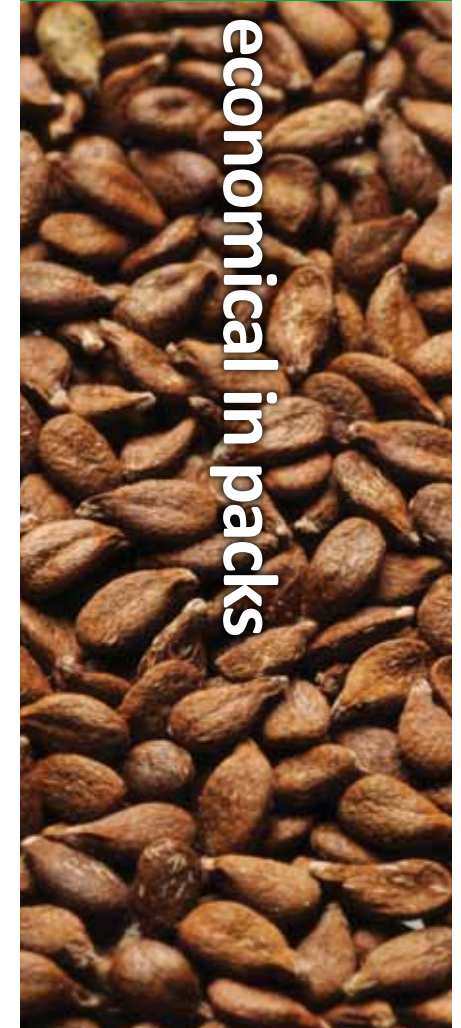

the disease-resistant
impatiens from seed

It's seed.

Divine is a must for your shade pack program. It's the only seed New Guinea on the market. Divine slots right into your seed bedding production with easy ordering, storage, scheduling and mechanization to fill packs, containers and baskets.

If you want vegetative performance at seed prices...
Divine is your solution.

It's the survivor.

Divine is an Impatiens hawkerii and has a high resistance* to Impatiens Downy Mildew. That translates into success for you, your retail customers, and most importantly, gardeners and landscapers. Once they enjoy the all-season performance of these big, showy plants, they'll definitely be back for more!

If you've put your standard Impatiens walleriana program on hold...
Divine is your solution.

It's easier than you thought.

Divine New Guineas are very grower-friendly! See for yourself just how simple your production will be in the "Growing Divine" Webinar on October 9, 2012 at 10:00 a.m. CST. Sign up today at the home page of panamseed.com. (Available online at panamseed.com/growingdivine after that date.)

Here are just a few of the questions we'll answer in the Webinar:

- How is Divine different from standard impatiens?
- What is the crop time?
- Do I grow Divine differently?

If you're stressed out about where to take your shade program...
Divine is your solution.

It's mixable.

Divine gives you the key standard impatiens colors your clients want. The one-week flowering window across the series opens the door to creating your own designer mixes.

If your landscaper clients want lots of brilliant shade color...
Divine is your solution.
